

CALL SPECIALISTS TO HARDING

Anxiety Manifested When Heart Trouble Symptoms Are Seen

Doctors Issue No Bulletin After Consultation—President's California Proframme Is Cancelled as His Party Reaches San Francisco
—No Immediate Alarm Is Felt—Will Be Rushed Back to Washington.

(By The Associated Press)
SAN FRANCISCO, July 30.—A bulletin on the condition of President Harding was issued this afternoon by Brigadier General Sawyer, his personal physician.

The president's condition is described as "acute" and it is stated that he has temporarily overstrained his cardiovascular system in carrying on his speaking engagement.

General Sawyer issued the statement after a consultation with two San Francisco physicians, stating that it would be impossible for the president to continue his engagements until he had a complete rest and the acute symptoms have subsided.

Harding's temperature at 9 o'clock was described as being 101, pulse 118, respiration 83. All of the attending physicians concurred in the statement.

PRESIDENT TO BE RUSHED TO WASHINGTON

(By The Associated Press)
SAN FRANCISCO, July 30.—President Harding will be rushed back to Washington by special trains as soon as he recovers from his present illness sufficiently to travel, within two weeks.

The two San Francisco physicians who were called into consultation by Brigadier General Sawyer last night were again in conference with Dr. Sawyer at 9:30 this morning. The two local doctors, Ray Lyman Wilbur, president of Stanford University, and Charles M. Cooper, a heart specialist, spent the night in the hotel where the President is ill. Secretary Work, of the interior department, a former president of the American Medical Association again met with the consultants. Prior to the meeting none of the doctors would make a statement but it was indicated that General Sawyer would issue a bulletin on conclusion of the conference.

HARDING REPORTED TO BE A VERY SICK MAN

(By The Associated Press)
SAN FRANCISCO, Calif., July 30.—President Harding today is a sick man.

How serious is his illness his physicians have not said beyond the statement issued last night saying that "new symptoms which had arisen during the day indicating complications in the case of the president." But it was regarded sufficient serious last night to cause a cancellation of the chief executive's entire California programme and to bring about a consultation into which two leading California physicians were called.

Four physicians participating in the consultation concluded their meeting early today without issuing any statement though Brigadier General Charles E. Sawyer, personal physician to the President previously had announced that a bulletin would be made public. None of the four physicians would make a statement. The calling of Dr. Charles M. Cooper of Stanford, a heart specialist together with other developments indicated that the effect of complications on the president's heart action as being watched carefully.

ONLY HEART COMPLAINT SUFFERED IN 20 YEARS

(By The Associated Press)
MARION, Ohio, July 30.—President Harding suffered several attacks of indigestion 20 years ago, caused by a slight disturbance of the heart, but no time was his condition serious, according to the chief executive's home town friends here. This is the only illness Mr. Harding has had, local people said in which there was anything akin to heart trouble. Dr. G. K. Harding, the President's father, said he had received no word as to the nature of his son's illness and he eagerly scanned press dispatches telling of the President.

Find Cave Family Near Large City

(By Chicago Tribune Service.)
TOPEKA, Kans., July 30.—A "Swiss family Robinson" was discovered Saturday on a little island in the Kaw river. Three persons made up the "family"—a man and his two children, one a girl 15 and the other a boy 17.

The discovery was made by T. D. Williams and Miss Eva Corning county welfare officers. And the little island—only about three blocks in size—is only a few minutes drive from the dome-capped capitol of Kansas.

But from the discovery of this little family living so near civilization and yet so apart from it, there unfolded a tale of a modern Alice and her adventures in Wonderland.

True there was no March hare or mad hatter, so Tweedle-dee and Tweedle-dum—but the things the girl, Emma Adams is her name—found beyond the magic mirror were as startling to her as were the discoveries Alice made.

For one thing there were girl's frocks—and she had known only boy's overalls. There was a red ribbon for her hair, hair that had known only tangles. And shoes—her first.

She saw a city she had seen a city once before—eight years ago—on a visit she barely remembered. But now she is of the twentieth century and may see the inside of church and school for the first time.

It was not easy for the officers to persuade Emma to step through the mirror. She was timid and brother showed resentment at the intrusion upon their primitive life. The man even cast significant glances at a long barreled rifle leaning against the wall of the cave home to which she was taken by Williams and Miss Corning, is a far cry from her cave home—a gloomy place ten feet square where ducks and geese and chickens had as much freedom of access as the human tenants.

DEATH OF INFANT

Jesse C. Walker, infant son of Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Walker, passed away Saturday night at 11:30 o'clock at the parents' home on Cabell street. The funeral was held Sunday afternoon from the home, the services being conducted by Rev. J. C. Batten. Interment was made in Green Hill cemetery. The pall bearers were J. S. Luther, R. F. Farley, L. W. Anderson and E. M. Hardy. The flower bearers were all children. They were Nancy Cole Walker, Alice Walker, Elizabeth Walker, Helen Walker, Thelma Walker, Essie Walker, Hubbard Walker, Jr., Samuel Irbey, Edmond Dunn, Julian Dunn, Susie Dunn, Clinton Dunn, Arnetta Tate, Hazel Dance, Fay Warrick and J. W. Hardy.

FUNERAL OF AN INFANT

Sunday afternoon at five o'clock, the funeral of the infant son of Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Walker, was held from the residence, 667 Cabell street. The funeral service was conducted by Rev. S. J. Batten. A large number of the sympathizing friends attended the funeral service. The child died Saturday night at 11:30 o'clock after a brief illness.

The flower bearers were fifteen first cousins of the infant, ranging in age from three to ten years.

The interment was made at Green Hill cemetery.

BANDITS KILL 1, WOUNDED TWO AND GET $90,000

(By Chicago Tribune Service.)
SCRANTON, Pa., July 30.—One man was killed and four others wounded in a hold up of a Laurel line car near Moosic today by seven bandits who escaped with two satchels containing $70,125. The money was to be used in paying anthracite miners at two collieries.

(By The Associated Press)
SCRANTON, Pa., July 30.—Three bandits held up the paymaster of the Avoca Coal Company, on a Laurel Line train at Moosic, using revolvers freely, killing one man named Murphy and wounding two others. The men escaped, getting away with the mine payroll of about $85,000 to $90,000.

Much Damage Done By Blast

Series of Mysterious Explosions in Town, Where Strike of Steel Men Is on.

(By The Associated Press)
SYDNEY, N. S. W., July 30.—A series of mysterious explosions occurred here today. Five lines supplying the plant of the British Empire Steel Corporation, where a strike is on, were blown up at several points, forcing the works to close. The police were advised that several men had been seen fleeing from the scene of the explosion.

According to the police the explosions were caused by bombs. One of them was at Prince and Ingle streets in the heart of the city. The damage was heavy. Fire damage, and white cutting off of the large water supply up to $3,000 needed for various operations in the steel plant, particularly in the oven section. The city is planning a supply of small quantity of water vital needs until repairs are made.

Had His Liquor In Coat Sleeve

Every day some witty bootlegger devises some new idea or scheme to transport his product. The arrest of Luther Stevens on Sunday afternoon revealed another new means of transportation without much chance of being caught so Stevens thought. He had two flat hot water bars cleverly concealed in the sleeve of his coat. It being a rather warm day Stevens evidently thought that securing the fluid in this manner in his coat sleeves and carrying it across his shoulder, nobody would suspect anything.

However, Sergeant J. H. Martin and O. W. Bates somehow got onto Stevens having the liquor. He was approaching town in his machine. The officers were trailing in their machine. Stevens got wise and stepped on the gas and he went with such a great speed that the officers did not overtake him until they had reached the old fair grounds. The chase started on the Yanceyville road and continued down Stokes street to Cabell and then down Newton to the lower part of town.

Stevens was this morning fined $51 and costs and sentenced to 30 days in jail.

Larkin Garrett Will Be Given Hearing First

Town Topics

City Auditor R. P. Moss returned Saturday night from a week's visit to cities in the eastern part of the state. He visited Richmond, Petersburg, Norfolk, Newport News and Portsmouth at which cities he visited the auditors for the purpose of making a comparison between the financial affairs of Danville and those cities. The city auditor has heard also from other cities and declares that the financial report on the condition of fiscal affairs in this city makes a remarkably good showing.

Messrs. Meade and Meade retained by citizens who claim that the school bond election of June 19th failed to be laid before the Supreme court. Statements under oath have been secured from City Attorney A. M. Aiken and former City Attorney E. Walton Brown. These depositions are for the purpose of showing to the court that the previous constitution of the language of the city charter supports the contention of the contestants.

Several local concerns are understood to have put in bids for the new $40,000 schoolhouse which is to be built at Spray, N. C. W. C. Northup of Winston-Salem, will tomorrow open bids at Spray on this proposed building.

The condition of James Franklin White who lives near Pumpkin Creek, remains critical today. He passed a restless night and it was reported today that he was weaker as he had not been able to take any nourishment. Reports reaching here Saturday were that Mr. White had died but upon enquiry it developed that he had suffered a serious sinking spell from which he rallied during Saturday afternoon.

Miss Mary Ruffin, assistant secretary of the Y. W. C. A. is expected home from Abingdon tonight to resume her work at the local institution. In an automobile accident in Richmond several days ago in which her knee and ankle were injured. In spite of her injury she was able to continue her journey to Abingdon but she has been compelled to take a complete rest since going there. Meagre advices on the mishap indicate that it was nearly a serious affair.

Good progress is being made on the new Allens schoolhouse which is being erected beyond the North Danville reservoir by the authorities of Tullah Dr. It is a ten-room building and will be ready for occupancy in a few days.

Judge Grants Motion of State to Separate Cases—
Date of R. O. Garrett's Trial not Indicated.

(By The Associated Press)
CUMBERLAND COURTHOUSE, July 30.—Judge B. D. White, sitting in the Cumberland court today granted a motion of the state for separate trials in the case of R. O. and Larkin C. Garrett, charged with killing Rev. E. S. Pierce, and Larkin Garrett will be brought to trial first. The decision came after a stiff fight by defense counsel. When R. O. Garrett will be tried was not indicated by the State and may depend on the outcome of his brother's case.

In his decision for separate trials Judge White announced the defense could note an exception if it desired, and thus the defense said. This point settled the state moved to quash the existing venire on the grounds that it was illegally drawn and selected by persons of the Garretts. The same charges made on the Cumberland jury charges made on the venue argument were cited in the motion. After a recess granted at the request of the defense in order to prepare a reply to the motion, Judge White removed his coat and suggested that counsel remove theirs for greater comfort. All took off their coats and proceeded with argument as to the venue dismissal motion. The argument dealt with the alleged illegality of the panel drawings and covered ground gone over Thursday but with the addition of more legal authorities.

The court was in the midst of arguments on the State's motion to quash the original venire when court recessed for dinner at one o'clock.

BELIEVE JURY WILL BE PICKED TODAY

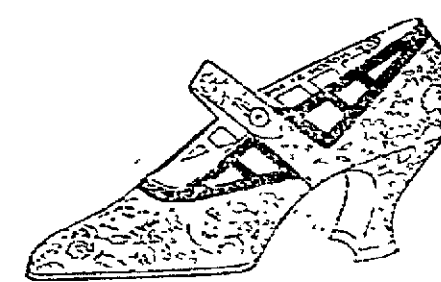

(Special to The Bee)
CUMBERLAND, COURTHOUSE, Va., July 30.—It is generally believed that but one day will be consumed in selecting a jury to try Robert O. and Larkin C. Garrett on trial today for shooting Rev. E. S. Pierce in front of his home here on June 5 and that by Tuesday morning the court will begin to hear evidence in the now famous case.

One reason for prediction of a long delay was because the county has been advertised as the hotbed of a bloody feud and that the Garretts would have to go on trial.

Were Caught at Still

(By The Associated Press)
HUNTINGTON, Va., July 30.—An unidentified moonshiner was killed and two wounded in a fight with dry agents near here today. After the battle a posse was formed and sent in search of the gang which escaped. Agents Frank Poe and Clay Williams reported that several days ago they found a still hidden in the Chamber of Commerce. They watched for the operators but their vigil was not rewarded.

until today when four men arrived and put the still in operation, one standing guard. The agents stepped forward but the snapping of a twig revealed their presence and the sentry fired. The other moonshiners ran to his assistance and the shooting was general. Within an hour they had broken away and carried the wounded with them.

DOLLAR WHEAT WILL NOT BREAK FARMERS YET

(By Chicago Tribune Service.)
CHICAGO, July 28.—"The farmers are not going broke on dollar wheat," said John J. Mitchell, president of the Illinois-Merchants Trust Company, and an internationally known banker.
"Only three states are so predominantly wheat states that they can not easily shift to other crops, and crops aside from wheat, are bringing satisfactory prices."
"Magnus Johnson, loud-mouthed with much to learn, may easily be a serious embarrassment to the farmer," said Mitchell, whose right bow-tie claims to be "We and Johnson talking glibly of insurrection against the government of which he is now a part, and he is quoted as calling attention to the supposed ease with which the United States government might be overthrown."
"It is silly to say that the farmers are on the verge of bankruptcy because wheat is selling in Chicago around a dollar a bushel. Before the war dollar wheat was the farmer's goal; even now, while the price is not satisfactory to the grower, it does not spell bankruptcy. Other crops the farmer raises are bringing good prices. Look at corn, the great staple of the middle western states, now bringing very satisfactory prices. Oats likewise. Cotton is selling at more than double the normal pre-war prices. As for wheat, it constitutes but six per cent of the value of all farm products yearly and only ten per cent of the value of all farm products yearly and only ten per cent of the crop values."
"Minnesota and the Dakotas are the only predominantly wheat states that can not readily shift to other crops, although it is true that the best wheat in the world is grown in the Dakotas. Thus, three states out of the 48 are seriously affected by the low price of wheat, and it is these states that are sending the noisiest representatives to Congress."

LEAGUE LIKELY TO HOLD INTACT

(By The Associated Press.)
BRISTOL, Va., Tenn., July 28.—Prospects of the Appalachian league continuing the remainder of the season with six clubs in the race looked much brighter today when O. F. Mullins, secretary and treasurer of the Greenville club, stated that $1,000 of the $3,000 needed to carry their club through the season had been raised and the directors of the club were more optimistic over their chances of raising the needed money. President of the league, Grover C. Davis, in a long distance telephone conversation, said a meeting of directors of the league would be held Tuesday in Greenville to consider to plight of the Greenville club and if possible put the league on a sounder basis by smoothing over the trouble.

NEGRO HERO AT POLICE STATION

(By S. W. WOODFORD
(Copyright 1923, Chicago Tribune.)
SAN ANTONIO, Texas, July 28.—Henry, the negro janitor at the Central police station is the pride of the negro district today. Even when he swaggers down San Antonio's principal business streets the glances of his white friends testify that heroism at last is his. He didn't save a whole station house full of Texas policemen from annihilation by a fugitive wild heron from the Zoo?
He did that. After the blue coats had fought with bats, buckets, nets, ropes, boxes and electric fans, Henry, walked into the darkened room where the "strange wild thing" at the time was having a siesta; and simply picked him up and carried him back to the zoo.
"Practice" says Henry, being a happy bromide "makes perfect." It was the witching hour of midnight when the mammoth bird flew into the police station and pecked at the desk sergeant's eyes. Immediately the room was in chaos. The telephone operator abandoned the switchboard when attacked from the rear. Sharp beak and long talons apparently filled the room. An emergency alarm was sounded. In rushed detectives, motorcycle officers, and turnkeys. The heron made one round about the room. Out rushed detectives, motorcycle officers and turn keys.
The battle shifted to garage, to shops and finally to the basement. It was dark down there. Brawny patrolmen paused at the threshold. Life was sweet. Then somebody thought of Henry, janitor.
Henry was advised that a big chicken was roosting in the basement. Would he go get it? A suggestion from a policeman was command. Life went. He failed to see, but he conquered.
Now Henry is a hero. It suffices, despite the fact that Henry was awfully disappointed when discovered that the squawking creature under his arm was not good to eat.

CONSUEL SANDS WEDS AVIATION ACE OF FRANCE

(By The Associated Press.)
PARIS, July 28.—Consuelo, daughter of Mrs. Nellie Sands, formerly Mrs. James Hattmaker, was married to Captain Charles Nungesser, French aviation ace, by the mayor of the eighth Arrondissement, in the presence of friends and government representatives. The church ceremony will be performed in the American-English chapel at Dinard next Tuesday, the bride's nineteenth birthday.
The bride's witnesses were her mother and stepfather, Captain William Waters, and those for Captain Nungesser were Deputy Moro-Giafferi and Colonel de Goys, representing the under-secretary of aviation. The bride was dressed in white and the bridegroom wore the uniform of a lieutenant of Hussars. They will spend their honeymoon at Dinard.

Brother Arrayed Against Own Sister In Suit For Millions

CHICAGO, July 30.—GOLD! In high places and low, the whisper of its shimmering name spells an irresistible magic to man. It sets the ties of blood to naught.
Such has been the history of titled and wealthy family disagreement established in the case of the Jay Gould heirs, which once more repeats itself here in the legal controversy over the millions left by the pioneer marquis, Levi Z. Leiter.
The stakes involved in the Leiter suit, now pending, where brother is arrayed against sister and other branches of the Leiter house more or less at each other's throats, are estimated at from $100,000,000 upward.
Question as to the rights to the vast sum was raised in the legal action now awaiting settlement in the Superior Court of Cook county. Mrs. Nancy Lathrop Leiter Campbell, daughter of Leiter, has allied herself with her brother, Joseph Leiter, against her sister, Lady Marguerite Hyde, countess of Suffolk, and Marquis George Nathaniel Curzon, British minister of foreign affairs, who seek an accounting of Leiter's stewardship and his removal as trustee of the estate of the elder Leiter.

Marquis Curzon joined in Lady Marguerite's suit in behalf of his three daughters, grandchildren of Leiter. Mrs. Campbell denies her sister's charges in answer to the suit, countering with the claim "that Joseph Leiter has faithfully, efficiently and unselfishly discharged his duties as trustee, and by his untiring efforts has procured an annual income vastly in excess of that which would be realized had the estate been deprived of his services."
It's another case of foreign marriages and millionaires' children.
The parallel between the Gould and Leiter cases begins in the involvement of American heiresses married to foreign noblemen. In each case a brother of a plaintiff was trustee of the father's estate and charged with mismanagement.
And to the average citizen, the controversy does not mean one cent of money. Whatever the decision of the court, the contested dollars will remain in the same family, resulting in more or less millions to the same affluent possessors.
When Curzon brought his plea he not only asked to have Leiter removed as trustee, but furthermore sought to have forfeited from his possession a tract of Illinois coal land said to be worth from $8,000,000 to $16,000,000.

The mines were left to Joseph Leiter under conditions which the Curzon heirs claim never were complied with.
The Curzon heirs are the Ladies Irene and Alexandra Curzon and their sister, Lady Cynthia Moseley. Even under present conditions, much of their income goes across to them from the American property left by their American grandfather.
In the case of the Gould estate, George Jay Gould was attacked in his position as trustee by his brothers and sisters, including Anna Gould, the Duchess de Talleyrand. They asserted that he had cost the trust state $25,000,000 by mismanagement and had him ousted.
Whether that phase of history will develop in the new case is the subject of speculation by the moneyed and moneyless alike who helped build up the Leiter wealth by buying merchandise from the family's store.

WOULD "CHINAFY" UNITED STATES

(By The Associated Press.)
WASHINGTON, July 28.—The activities of those who would "Chinify" the United States through disarmament were denounced tonight in a statement issued by James McFarland, National Commander of the disabled American veterans on the eve of the country-wide celebration of law-not-war today by the national defense for the prevention of war.
The national council itself which in the past has been assailed as a "pacifist" organization war department officials, the American defense society, and others, was not mentioned in Mr. McFarland's statement. The announcement accompanied it, prepared at headquarters of the disabled veterans, called attention to the fact that the statement was co-incident with the "law-not-war" demonstration.
"Under varied aliases," said Mr. McFarland's statement, "groups of well meaning misled men and women are working on schemes supposed to aid in the prevention of future wars when, as a matter of fact, they are merely attempting to bring about a road that would eventually Chinify this country and leave us supine through disarmament."
"Of all the people to speak authoritatively of war, the ideas of the men disabled in line of duty should carry real weight. The disabled man holds no brief for war—he detests the very thought—still he is not going afflicted in the realms of the idealists for he knows that an adequate defense no more encourages than insurance invites fire."
"The disabled American veterans have always felt that the best preventative against war is a suitable preparedness that would make a potential enemy proceed slowly before provoking conflict."

CHARGE EFFORT AT FASCISTI IN FRANCE NOV

(By VINCENT SHEGAN
(Copyright 1923 by Chicago Tribune.)
PARIS, July 28.—Left wing circles here are accusing the Roman Catholic church of preparing to set up a Fascisti in France. Socialist newspapers are expressing alarm at the "mobilization of the youth of France" by religious gymnastics and attack the government for permitting the situation.
Deputy Moro-Giafferi, a leading criminal lawyer, writing today in the Free Nouvelle, accused Premier Poincare of acting with the reactionaries and the monarchists to prepare to overthrow the republic with the aid of a nucleus of youths with the aid of newly organized gymnastics. Twenty thousand youths have already been enrolled and are being taught by 2,000 priests, all firm adherents of the restoration of the monarchy. The youths wear black shirts, and are taught the straight arm Roman salute exactly as Mussolini nationalist battalions were trained before the Fascist coup in Italy.

CALL OFF DEMONSTRATIONS

(By The Associated Press.)
BERLIN, July 28.—The Communists have decided to call off their open anti-fascist demonstrations and will confine their protest meeting for Sunday to indoor gatherings which will be under rigid police surveillance all over Germany.
After the federal and state governments had announced widespread preparations for subduing political outbreaks of all kinds under the existing circumstances, the German Bolshevik leaders suddenly decided to keep their followers off the streets Sunday especially as the united socialists and labor factions had ordered their members to hold aloof from all communistic demonstrations.

The Door of Desire

*Should a Murderer

A Visitor in the Dark

INSTALLMENT I

JULIAN THAYNE, second Viscount Montore, came down the steps of his house and walked briskly to the corner. At the corner he stopped abruptly, remained quite still and then jerked a cigaret case from his pocket, looked at it for some five seconds, and lit a cigaret.

He walked on for a dozen paces or so and then threw the cigaret away.

He crossed Pall Mall and turned eastwards through Trafalgar square into Charing Cross road. He continued to walk rapidly until he had reached the end of Tottenham Court road, when he realized that he was out of breath and perspiring. It was a warm afternoon in early spring—one could almost say that it was hot. He began to walk more slowly. By half past 3 he was walking very slowly, ruminating deeply.

"Martin!" he said aloud. "It will have to be Martin." He flung back his head and laughed.

He looked handsomer than ever when he laughed, and wilder. For there was wildness about him somewhere, conventional though the cut of him might be. There was wildness in the depths of his dark eyes and in the lift of his head; but below the wildness there lay no strength.

"Martin," he muttered again, when he had finished laughing. "My God, how amusing! And so immensely simple. So—immensely—simple."

He would have laughed again, but one or two people were eying him curiously. So he twirled his stick, pushed up the knot of his tie and pulled it down again—a subconscious action which, in him, denoted considerable satisfaction. Then he began to walk quickly again, with a sense, now, of direction. Some quarter of an hour later, he slowed down beside the Fleet street entrance of the Temple.

He turned through an archway. Some one was crossing the court in the opposite direction. A cigaret in the arch! The court seemed to be empty. He strode forward to the second staircase. His eyes fastened on the name "Mr. Martin Thayne" with a relief that was shattered by the fact that some one was coming out of the staircase. Julian passed to the arch at the other end of the court. In passing he made the valuable discovery that Martin Thayne's window was open.

In the archway he manufactured a difficulty with his shoelaces. If anyone could have seen his eyes at that moment he would have seen not fear, by any means, but that cynicism faintly tinged with bravado with which the well-bred mask their fear.

Crouching over his shoe, he saw that the court was again, to all appearances, empty. He returned, lifted the window a little higher, and slipped into Martin Thayne's chambers.

He shut the window behind him.

"Martin!" he called, strode into the corridor, and opened the door of the clerk's room. It was empty. He crossed the narrow corridor to the pantry. No one there. The next door was the bedroom. Empty, too.

Julian Thayne returned to the first room and dropped into an armchair. Dusk was fading now into darkness. He did not turn on the light.

In a clean, snug little fish parlor off Fleet street, Martin Thayne, barrister-at-law, was studying the menu. A brain worker, though he may drink beer, cannot assimilate coarse food. Under the eye of the waitress, who could read the thoughts of struggling barristers, he had just accomplished a masterly compromise between the desires of the palate and the exigencies of the pocket.

Martin Thayne, a little later, walked slowly back to the Temple.

He let himself into his chambers and turned on the light in his room.

"Julian! Good Lord, you made me jump! What the devil are you doing in the dark?"

"Waiting for you," said Montore. "I suppose it's damn cheek, in a way. I ought to apologize."

The tone of the apology brought a glint to Martin's eyes. He resented his cousin's habit of dragging up and airing, rather in manner than in words, their deep-rooted antipathy to each other. Julian, after all, could afford to let it sleep. Had he not all that a sane man can want of the world, as well as—Jacqueline?

JACQUELINE MONTORE believed that a horrible murder in her house was to mean a new life for her and the man she loved. Thus begins a remarkable story that will run every day.

ROY VICKERS has in a large measure, taken the place in England that Conan Doyle relinquished when he abandoned Sherlock Holmes to study the greater mystery of the spiritual life. The Door of Desire is not essentially a detective story, but it is a tale of mystery and crime, with a fine romance woven into it.

IN THE SUGGESTION of the dark pathways of London life, and the peculiar psychology of the English criminal, this story is much like Conan Doyle. And it has a splendid love story to add to the interest and suspense. Start this new daily serial now and enjoy a vivid novel built around the unusual relationship between two men and a woman.

"You are drunk," said Thayne. "Extremely drunk or ill."

"No," said Montore. "I've killed a man and it's dead certain to be found out in 24 hours. That's why I was waiting for you in the dark."

Virginians Increase Lead; Raleigh Here Today

Grandstand Gaff

The word "DANVILLE" heading the Piedmont League looks as large as a string of box cars to local fans. It is impossible to express how large the Tobacco City looks to other aspirants for second half honors.

Danville now tops Greensboro and Winston by a lead of 12 points. With two games here with Raleigh, which Murphy's crew are determined to annex, and Greensboro mixing it with Durham and Winston with High Point, the margin should be increased by Wednesday.

That the artist who arranged the Piedmont schedule must have had a keen insight into the future is the thought of local followers of the game. The schedule reaches near to perfection this week, according to a Danville way of thinking. On the top with four straight games at home, Raleigh today and tomorrow, and Winston Wednesday and Thursday. Stonewall park should be packed for every one of the four games.

The Virginians' biggest asset at present seems to be their ability to put over enough runs to win in the final frames. Their "Safety First" move at Durham Saturday of putting over three tallies in the ninth gave them the victory as the Bulls staged a two-run come-back in the final frame.

The Durham fans turned out 1,200 strong to witness their pennant contenders in action Saturday—a rather unusual attendance in the Bovine city, and then to be disappointed. But then, it is best to disappoint the minority for a dose of home-baked bread. An ordinary attendance at Stonewall park and the bunch here was just as delighted over the victory as the Durhamites would have been, had they the chance.

Ted Smith, Murphy and Resco led the slugging Saturday, with two safeties each. The extra-base artists were Dorman, Murphy and Leard. The triples by Pilot Herb and Freddy came in the "Safety First" rally, as did Bill Leard's double.

Floyd Trexler expects to have developed a habit of participating in double plays. He used his arm to complete a double check-off to Resco's station, Friday, and then nabbed one at the plate Saturday for a two-pitch circle.

Cy Twombly gave up nine hits in the affair but they were well scattered and lightly sprinkled, especially around the Bulls' heavy artillery. Gooch connected only once, while "Big" Butts and Benson just couldn't solve the Tobaccoist twirler. It is not pure luck when you slip them by that trio.

The Winston club, which now draws the title of "Fuhrey's Furious Twins," is fast maneuvering towards a dangerous position in the standing. At the outset of the second half hardly rated as all as a formidable opponent, they have developed into one of the "lightness" aggregations in the circuit. That fellow Long, who journeys forth in front of the Twin hitters has a lot to do with the victories turned in. His stick is hardly ever silent, banging out from two to four safeties each day. If the tide don't carry Tex Allison out he seems to have drifted into a cheering home.

In Greensboro they are wondering what will become of Dave Harris once Jimmy Teague returns to the game. They're right about the matter, the young sandlotter is fast enough for Piedmont company. He covers a regular Teague territory around the keystone sack and is a dangerous man with the willow. His biggest trouble seems to be his inclination to swing at the high ones, a common trouble with a youngster, and one that no doubt will be overcome.

The Reds chalked up a 2 to 1 victory over the Braves yesterday, making it the seventeenth victory during the season for the Cuban moundsman, Luque. Another Luque hurling corps would give the Giants an east tumble.

"For safety depend on a Ford" prevented Luque from turning in a shut-out. The Braves made their lone run in the second when Earl Smith doubled and scored on Ford's single. No doubt the Cuban thinks those "pesky silvers" bob up at the most unexpected places.

Cy Williams again took the lead over Bambino Babe Sunday by easing two separate and distinct pieces of horsehide over the wall. Cy has 27 and Ruth 24 at present count.

Four straight games at home is something unusual for the Danville club and has caused several second scrutineers of the schedule, but it's there in black and white, red too, for that matter. On the headche-bull line, it's Duke Duncan's cellar dodgers today and tomorrow, and then two tilts with Fuhrey's Furious Twins. There will hardly be room for an Elks' or Kiwanians' day this week.

MOVEMENT ONLY TO STORE 200,000,000 BUSHELS WHEAT

(By Chicago Tribune Service.)

WASHINGTON, July 28.—Progress is being made in the movement for the storing of 200,000,000 bushels of wheat on the farm, according to a statement today by Gray Silver, Washington representative of the American Farm Bureau Federation. Mr. Silver said that the farm loan board has notified the twelve intermediate credit banks to accept as a basis for loans warehouse receipts on wheat on any warehouse approved by the Department of Agriculture.

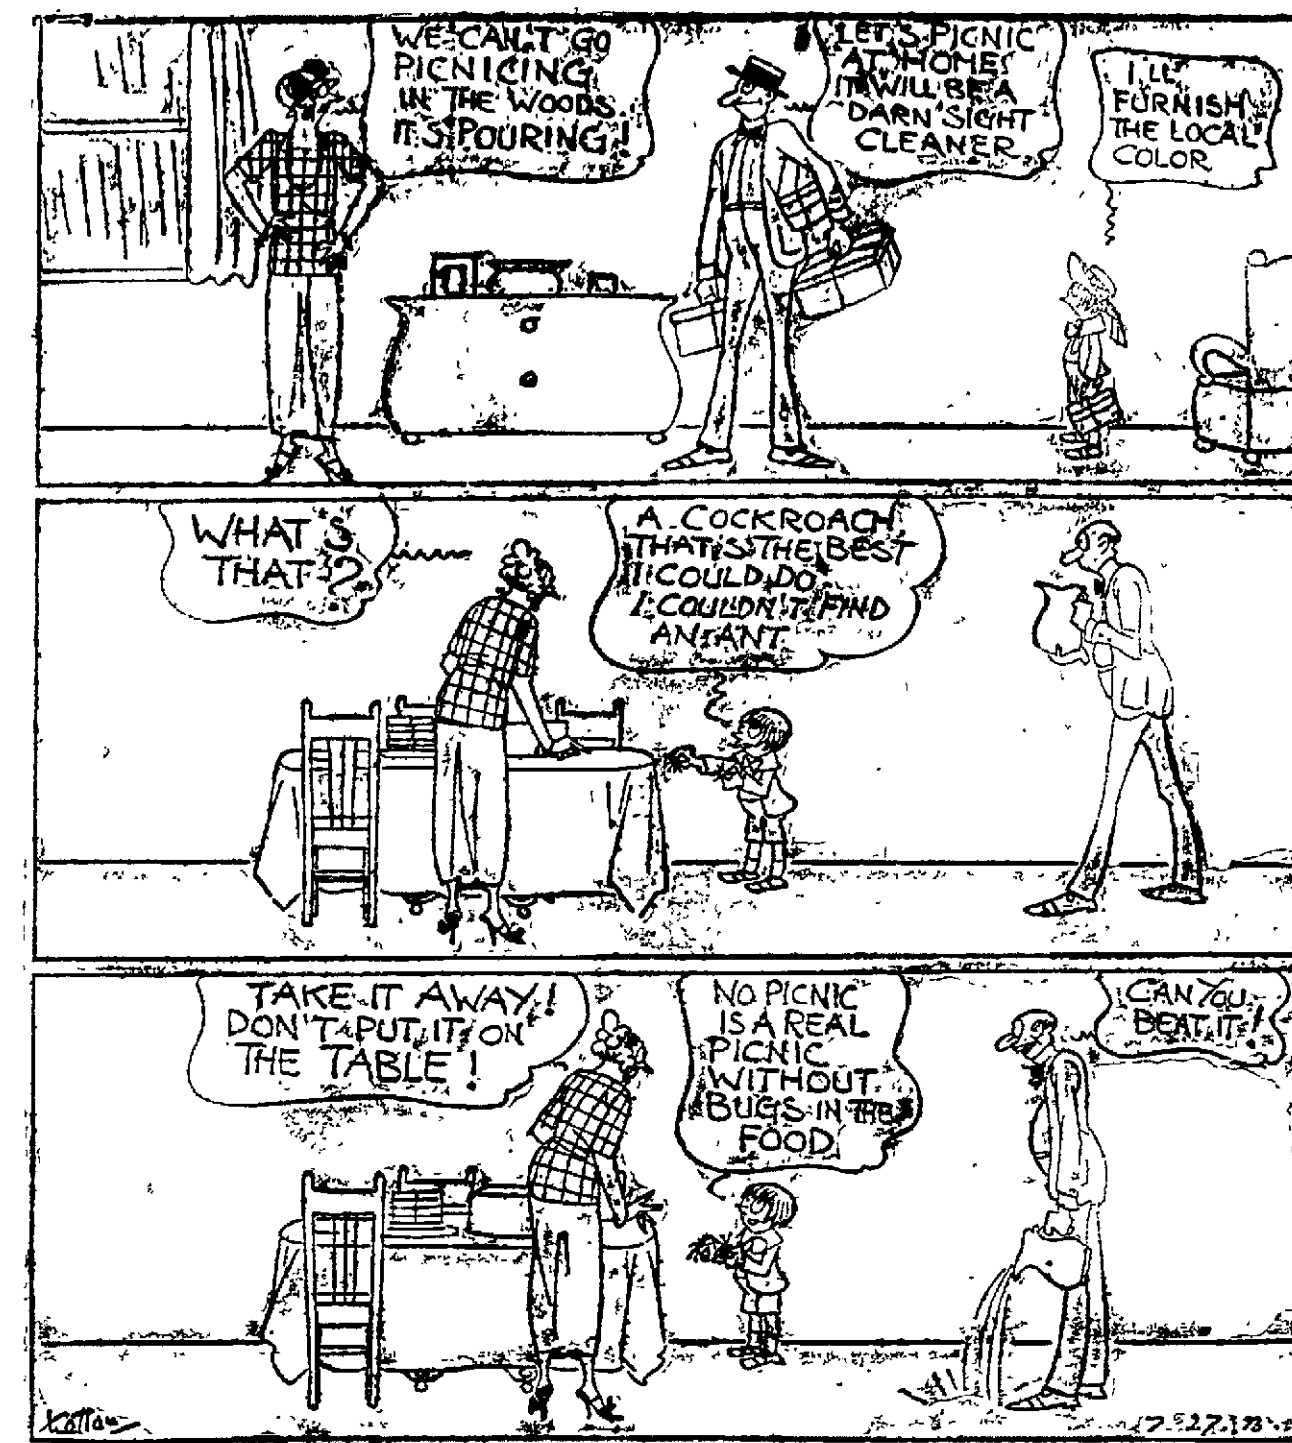

Mr. Silver said that reports to the Washington office of the American Farm Bureau Federation indicate that in accordance with existing granaries farmers in the wheat belt and further west are building granaries and making preparations for the holding of the surplus crop.

LOS ANGELES, Cal., July 28.—William T. Tilden, national tennis champion, won the Southern California men's singles title today by defeating Manuel Alonzo, Spanish Davis cup star, 6-1, 6-4, 6-2, in a well played match at the Los Angeles Tennis Club. A crowd of 1,500 persons, which was described as unruly, was said to have interfered with playing of Alonzo, who appeared to be nervous.

Evans Is Western Amateur Champion

CLEVELAND, Ohio, July 28.—Chick Evans today won the western amateur championship for the eighth time by defeating Hamilton Gardner of Buffalo, six up and four to play at the Mayfield Country club. The greatest number in any golf classic ever won by any one, he waded thru a fine field, including the national champion, Jess Sweetser, who pushed Evans to better than par golf, as did Gardner most of today. Gardner played excellent golf, exciting the admiration, openly expressed, of Evans, who played four better than par on the 16 holes finished in the morning round and was three under for the 18 holes he finished in the afternoon. The champion just steadily tightened up on his younger opponent, until with a birdie two on the short 31st he became dormie five.

WOENBURN, Mass., July 28.—Joie Ray, the fleet mile champion of the Illinois A. C., was beaten at his favorite distance here today by Lloyd Hahn of the Boston A. A. Running with a handicap of 20 yards, Hahn literally ran the champion off his feet, winning not by his handicap, but by another ten yards as well.

BIG LEAGUE VETS PLAY

CLEVELAND, Ohio, July 29.—Cy Young, the only pitcher to win 500 games, showed today that he had lost none of his cunning when, pitching for a term of old timers of the Cleveland major league clubs of yesterday against the old sandlotters of this city, he struck out two men and allowed only one hit in the two innings he was on the mound. He also got one of the side's five hits. Chief Zimmer, who caught Young more than a decade ago did the receiving.

The game, a five inning exhibition for the benefit of the medical protective funds of the Cleveland amateur baseball and athletic association, intended to be used in the event of injuries to sandlot players and umpires, was attended by approximately 20,000 people. The sandlotters won 6 to 4.

Nap Lajoie, considered by many the greatest second baseman the game has ever known, and Bill Schwartz, who played second base for two seasons. Other former major leaguers participating included Earl Moore, no-hit pitcher, who was Cleveland's ace 20 years ago, Charley Smith, Homer Davidson, Larry Twitchell, Charley Hickman, Red Carney, Nick Albrock and Jack Graney.

Murphy's Crew Win Three Consecutive Games From Bulls

DURHAM, July 28.—Danville made it three out of four from Gooch's herd by winning again this afternoon. 5 to 3 in a game featured by ninth inning rallies by both clubs.

It was battle between Cy Twombly and Allen until the sixth frame when Allen was relieved by Gibson, the Bulls' Rock of Ages. Durham managed to push one across in the fifth but the visitors retaliated by opening an attack on Allen, scoring one and forcing him from the mound in that frame with none out. Danville added another in the seventh, and played safe by running the total up three more in the final box. The three tallies were the result of triples by Freddy Dorman and Manager Murphy, a single by Ted Smith and a double by Bill Leard.

The turntillies on the Durham park were clicked an even dozen times on the 100 mark by Saturday fans eager to see the streets second-half contenders in action. The grandstand and bleachers were amply rewarded for the game rocked along in superb fashion, until the sixth and with the ninth inning rallies was well worth watching through the climax.

Bunched hits gave the victory to Danville, while Twombly was the master of the Bulls' heavy artillery, Gooch securing only one hit, while Butts and Benson were blanked. Floyd Trexler, in left field, participated in his second double play in two days, nabbing a man at the plate after stabbing a drive in left.

Murphy's crew now well settled in first place, will entertain the Raleigh club at home Monday and Tuesday.

Greensboro Trims Winston Troupes Furniture Makers Capitals Again

HIGH POINT, July 28.—Although outlasted nearly two to one, Greensboro defeated the Pointers here this afternoon, 8 to 5.

Padgett, former Cotton States twirler, was on the mound for Greensboro's "B" and allowed only five hits but some were for extra bases and came in bunches, resulting in his defeat. Rube Crews started off on the mound for Greensboro, but was removed for O'Quinn in the sixth, after the first inning. The Pointers began to warm up to his offerings.

In the fourth frame Carroll hit over the fence with one on Shay one on, which coupled with two doubles and a single tallied four runs.

It was the report tonight that McCullough had been given the ship. Nothing more than the bare announcement was given out.

Today Is Ladies' Day Here; Locals Play Capitals

Herb Murphy's Tobaccoists are home again and will have four straight games at home today. The afternoon they will play the Greensboro team and Wednesday and Thursday the Twins will be their guests. Danville has now gained a fairly good lead over the rest of the league, and it is a large number are expected to turn out to witness the game against Raleigh. Murphy likes to see a crowd at the games and the more the better. Incidentally the ladies have been loyal fans, only on ladies' day, but at other times.

THINKS HE MAY BE BACK.

NEW YORK, July 28.—Mrs. Annie Fitzmaurice of Yonkers, N. Y., has not lost hope that her uncle, John Howe, last seen in 1849, will return, even though he would be 112 years old if still living. She has requested the aid of radio broadcasting stations in locating him.

Her belief in the existence of her kinsman became known today when she objected, in papers filed in Surrogate's Court, to an accounting which failed to have How's estate an uncle of a dead cousin, whose will is being executed.

RALEIGH, July 28.—The Capitals this afternoon again fell before the onslaught of Fuhrey's Furious Twins by an 8 to 5 score.

Culverston, Salisbury semi-pro, started the game for Winston but only lasted three innings. He was relieved by Crowder, who allowed only one more run during the game. The Capitals were very effective and had the Capitals helpless. Riel was on the mound for Raleigh and even though he gave up no more hits than the opposing twirler, they came in bunches that resulted in runs.

Carr Smith and Barrett, of Raleigh, and Carter, of Winston, led the hitting.

Alison, former Danville player, relieved Clarke in centerfield for the day. Allison secured a single and a sacrifice and handled three chances perfectly. The box score:

(SATURDAY'S GAMES)

YANKEES LOSE TO CHICAGO.

(By The Associated Press)

NEW YORK, July 28.—The New York Yankees returned from a long road trip today and were defeated by Chicago, 3 to 1. The first game of a scheduled double-header was prevented by rain, and rain fell continually through the second contest. Two games will be played here tomorrow. Robertson had the better of Hoyt in a pitching duel. Hoyt was stopped after winning six successive games. Hooper hit safely three times, and drove in two of the Chicago runs. Score by innings:

Chicago . . . 000 110 100—4 8 1
New York . . . 000 100 00—1 8 1
Robertson and Schalk; Hoyt and Schang.

BOSTON DEFEATS CLEVELAND.

Boston, July 28.—Boston scored seven runs in the seventh off Pitchers Boone and Metevier today, defeating Cleveland, 10 to 5. The visitors' runs were made off Piercy in the first half of the seventh.

A leaping glove-hand catch by Speaker off Flagstead in the last of the seventh cut off what looked like a home run. Speaker made five hits in five at-bats. Rain made necessary calling off of the second half of a scheduled double-header. Score by innings: R H E
Cleveland . . . 000 000 500—5 10 3
Boston . . . 200 100 100—10 12 5

Williams Leads With 27 Homers

CHICAGO, July 30.—Babe Ruth, leading home-run slugger of the American League, last week tied Cy Williams of the Philadelphia Nationals, who has been leading both leagues in home runs, but held his lead in home runs for only a day.

The home run duel started on Tuesday when Ruth slammed out for four, tying with Williams on Thursday for the season.

Williams, who has been leading both leagues in home runs, but held his lead in home runs for only a day. The home run duel started on Tuesday when Ruth slammed out for four, tying with Williams on Thursday for the season.

Tonight Ruth had a total of 24 homers to his credit, while Williams was credited with 27. Last week Williams led Ruth by only one homer. The other Williams, Kenneth, of the St. Louis Americans, was third in the home run race in both leagues with 18 to his credit, he having batted out one circuit clout during the week.

"HOOVER AT LAST!"
JOHNNIE DUNDEE, NOW THE CHAMPION, HAS HAD HIS LAST FIGHT FOR THIRTEEN YEARS.

Fistic Chatter for the Fans

(By Chicago Tribune Service)

NEW YORK, July 28.—Eugene Ciri, of France, former world's featherweight champion, who lost his title to Johnny Dundee last night at the Polo grounds, will sail on next Thursday for his home on the steamship Suffern. He will be accompanied by his manager, Robert Eudeline, and several other Frenchmen who came to this country to see the contest. Ciri paid his income tax today and is already packed up ready to sail. Mme. Ciri will sail with her husband.

Ciri said today he was amazed by Dundee's strength and speed and puzzled by his peculiar style. "But," said Ciri, "I think I am entitled to a return match, and I am sure I will give him a much different argument the next time. I am going to France to box for the wounded soldiers, as I promised I would, win or lose. When I have kept my promise I will come back to this country and seek another chance at the title."

Ciri appeared little the worse today for his fifteen tough rounds. There were 32,368 fight fans who paid to see the Ciri-Dundee battle. The total gate receipts were $148,266.00. Ciri received a guarantee of $50,000. Dundee's share, 17-1/2 per cent of the net receipts, amounted to $22,408.50.

The government tax amounted to $13,473.50. The state of New York drew down $6,739.40 in taxes.

At the Queensborough Stadium, in Long Island City next Tuesday Gene Tunney, American light-heavyweight champion, is to defend his laurels against Dan O'Dowd, New England title holder, for 12 rounds. Joe White, Alabama heavyweight, is to mix with Silent Puryear over the same distance. Natalio Pera, of Argentine, a cousin of Luis Firpo, will face Louis Brown, Australian heavyweight, in a six rounder.

O'ROURKE IS SUSPENDED

BY NEW YORK COMMISSION

NEW YORK, July 28.—Tom O'Rourke, matchmaker, of the Polo Grounds Athletic Club, indefinitely suspended today by the New York State Athletic Commission pending a hearing.

O'Rourke was set down for interfering with Deputy Commissioner Walter Hooks in the performance of his duty at the weighing in of Dundee and Ciri yesterday afternoon at Jack O'Brien's gymnasium. A special session of the commission was held this morning and O'Rourke's suspension resulted. No date has been set for the hearing of the case, but it is expected further action will be taken at the regular meeting of the commissioners next Tuesday.

National League

(SUNDAY'S GAMES)

CINCINNATI, July 29.—Cincinnati won a pitcher's battle from Boston 2 to 1 today. It was the 17th victory of the season for Luque, who not only pitched a good ball but won his own game with a three-bagger in the eighth inning, scoring on a single by Burns. The Braves escaped a shut-out in the second when Earl Smith doubled and came home on a single by Ford.

THE GIANTS BEAT CUBS

IN ONE-SIDED GAME, 15-3

CHICAGO, July 29.—New York, got an even break in the four game series with Chicago today by defeating the locals 15 to 3, in a slugging match which was very one-sided. The world's champions landed on Kaufmann in the second inning and drove him off the mound. They continued against Dumovich and Fussell while Ryan settled down after the second inning and kept Chicago's hits scattered. Stutz and Frisch cracked out home runs.

"CY" WILLIAMS' HOMERS GIVE PHILS EDGE ON CARDS

ST. LOUIS, July 29.—Two home runs by "Cy" Williams with Sand on base each time enabled Philadelphia to defeat St. Louis 6 to 2 this afternoon. Williams sent both drives into the right field bleachers. Flack, also knocked out a circuit drive. The victory gave the Phillies the series, three games to one.

PITTSBURGH WINS AGAIN

(By The Associated Press)

PITTSBURGH, July 28.—Pittsburgh made it five straight from Boston by winning today's game, three to one. Each team scored one in the first inning, but timely hitting pushed another over for the Pirates in the sixth and eighth innings. Rain stopped the game for 17 minutes in the 7th inning.

Score by innings: R H E

GIANTS AND CUBS SPLIT

(By The Associated Press)

CHICAGO, July 28.—New York and Chicago divided a double-header today, the visitors winning the first game, 6 to 1 and the Cubs the second, 7 to 5. The Giants bunched hits in three innings off Alexander in the initial contest, while the Cubs were unable to do anything to Bentley's pitching.

O'Farrell's homer saved Chicago from a shut-out. Back Miller's homer which sent two runners in ahead of him, put Chicago out in front in the second game.

Woods Accused By Teammates

NORFOLK, Va., July 30.—Sandy Woods, second baseman of the Rocky Mount ball club, has been suspended by Manager Frank Walker, pending an investigation of certain charges made against him by other members of the team.

The investigation will be held in Rocky Mount today with W. S. Move, president of the Virginia League, and Rocky Mount directors in attendance. It is charged that Woods approached other members of the club with a view of "throwing" games in the important series between Rocky Mount and Norfolk which ended yesterday.

"I hoped that the charges against Woods were not true," said Walker this morning, "but six members of my club came to me with the information and it was so straight that I could not overlook it."

Manager Walker is so sure that Woods is out for the rest of the year that he has secured another man to take his place. Bill Waldron, of Birmingham, Ala., will report to the Tarheels at once. Waldron has been playing in the Mississippi State League this year.

Charges of misconduct on Woods' part cover a period of about two weeks. During that time Rocky Mount has played thirteen games. Woods participated in nine of them and was discharged or by some flying part of the wreckage.

Several other persons who were in the car escaped uninjured.

TOUGH BREAKS FOR LAST YEAR'S STAR PITCHERS

Faber, to rate, has lost more games than he has won. In fact, Detroit appears to be the only team he has on his hip. Game after game has been pounded hard by the enemy batters.

These Show Up Poorly
The same holds true for Fillette, who after a brilliant season in his first year in the majors, was looked upon as a future great. But, so far, Fillette has dropped almost twice as many hits as he has won.

And Rommel! The fellow who astonished the entire baseball world by winning 27 games with the seventh place Athletics in 1922—what's the matter with Eddie? Was his wonderful performance a year ago only a flash in the bucket? It would seem that way. For Rommel still is below the 500 mark in the percentages.

Thus have three of the four star pitchers of 1922 got off on anything but the right foot. Counted upon as certain winners, they have so far failed to show their reputed stuff.

All of which shows that this is a tough season for the pitching idols.

Four of the leading twirlers in the American League in 1922 were Urban Faber, of the White Sox; Urban Shocker, Browns; Herman Pillette, Tigers, and Eddie Rommel, Athletics.

Combined, this quartet turned in something like 92 victories or an average of 23 each. White wasn't bad for a season's effort.

Only Shocker Doing Well

But thus far this season, only one of them, Shocker, has displayed any of the clever ability exhibited last year. He has performed nicely.

But how about the other three, Faber, Fillette and Rommel? They are far behind their regular stride, apparently. And their clubs obviously have suffered to an appreciable extent.

PECULIAR AUTO ACCIDENT BEFALLS CONDUCTOR

(By The Associated Press)

STAUNTON, Va., July 28.—J. C. Balkins, a conductor on the Seaboard Air Line is in a local hospital tonight as result of an automobile accident, which he occurred while driving over a wet road in the Blue Ridge mountains near here this afternoon. In making a sharp turn the car skidded and plunged over an embankment and was wrecked.

Balkins is suffering from a wound in the leg which physicians who attended him believed was inflicted either when a revolver which was carried in the pocket of the car was discharged or by some flying part of the wreckage.

Several other persons who were in the car escaped uninjured.

YOU KNOW THE FULL PLEASURE OF MOTORING WHEN YOU USE

Balanced Gasoline

IF all you needed in a gasoline was quick starting—or if you were always just accelerating—or always on a hill or always out in broad open country, it would not be so difficult to produce a gasoline that would exactly meet your needs.

But in driving you are frequently changing pace—starting, accelerating, running idle, starting again, taking a hill, coasting or passing somebody. This need for easily changing pace has been one of the motor designer's great problems—and a problem for the oil refiner.

"Standard", the Balanced Gasoline, does everything that a motor fuel should do—naturally and easily. It is harder to make than a one-sided, unbalanced gasoline, yet it costs you no more. You can get it conveniently anywhere from those old pumps with the S. O. sign.

Where did Bobby Jones finish in the national open last year and what was his score?

Jones finished in a tie for second place last year at Skokie with a score of 289. The veteran pro, John Black, shared the position with the youthful amateur Samzen won with a score of 288, so that Jones and Black were just a stroke removed from the title in 1922.

Smith's caddy, on all the greens in a match with Jones, indicated the line of Smith's putts with a club and held the club in position while Smith putted. The club held by Smith's caddy did not touch the ground but unquestionably was of great aid to Smith in his putting. Was Smith within his rights in having his caddy indicate the line of putt?

Smith was in error and should suffer a two-stroke penalty for each violation. It is merely permissible to point out the direction for putting before the stroke is made. This disputed point is covered by section 1 of rule 29.

A is playing B and giving him one stroke a hole. They both score a five on a certain hole in which A had the honor. Since each scored a five does A retain the honor at the next tee?

Although each made a five on the hole, B won the hole since A was giving him a one-stroke handicap. That of course entitles B to the honor on the next tee.

Is there a penalty if a player's ball strikes a flag stick which has been permitted to remain in the hole?

There is no penalty if a player's ball strikes the flag stick while it is in the hole regardless of the distance the ball is played from.

PRETTY BOASTFUL.
The case was not going well for the prosecution, and the lawyer who was cross-examining the witness for the defense could not get him to make the damaging statements which he had been hoping for all along.

At last he thought he would try to discredit him, and finally he asked whether the witness was acquainted with any of the men on the jury.

"Yes," replied the witness. "More than half of them."

"Are you willing to swear that you know more than half of them?"
asked the lawyer in his most awe-inspiring tones.

"Why," retorted the witness, "without as much as the flicker of an eyelid, 'if it comes to that, I am willing to swear that I know more than the bloomin' lot of them put together."

"And Bells On Her Toes"

The dancing girl of 1923 will not only have rings on her fingers, but bells on her toes. So Miss Irma Brandt, employee of a Cincinnati shoe company says. Here she is putting little bells on a pair of dancing pumps. It'll help the jazz music, she says.

And This At a Horse Show!

You've heard of a horse thief? Well, this is a laugh on the horse.
Sergeant Dibble of the New Jersey state troopers stands on the seat of his motorcycle while it spins along at 30 miles an hour. And he did it at the Monmouth County Horse Show, Long Island, N. J.

Red Flag Flies At Docks

The red I. W. W. flag flying at the Marine Transport Workers Union headquarters at Hoboken, N. J., opposite the United States line piers.
Citizens of Hoboken are protesting against the flag since it is flown without the Stars and Stripes alongside it, the usual courtesy.

Snake For Mop Handle

RYDE, Pa., July 23.—Mrs. Robert Latherow saw what she believed to be her mop handle lying across the porch at her home and stooping to pick it up in the semi-darkness awoke suddenly to the realization that she had a six-foot blacksnake in her hands. The snake wriggled loose and tried to climb the falls of the building, but help was at hand in the shape of a large shepherd dog, which grasped the snake in his mouth and back and the snake was soon dispatched.

A CROOKED GAME

The following concerns a game of poker.
The scene was laid in a Western mining town. The players were about as tough a bunch of "guys" as can be conceived, and the stakes were high.
Suddenly the dealer stopped, threw his cards in, and got up from the table.
"Boys," he said, feeling for his six-shooter. "This is where I quit. This game ain't straight. Broncho Bill ain't playing the hand I dealt him."

MR. BLAIR WITHDRAWS

CHATHAM, VA.
July 12, 1923.

Mr. C. J. Blair,
Danville, Virginia.

My Dear Mr. Blair:

Knowing that you are a candidate for Commissioner of the Revenue in Tunstall District, I wish to express my sincere regret at the necessity of your withdrawing from the School Board, if elected.

We feel that you are serving your County and your State in your present position as school trustee in such an admirable manner that we hope you will reconsider before giving up this important work in which you are now engaged. We need men who give their time and service to the education of our youth.

Tunstall District is a monument to your faithful and efficient work in behalf of her public schools. The debt at present, I believe you will not find a district in the State more progressive or doing more lasting work than old Tunstall. Time alone will reveal the good that will be accomplished, due to the untiring efforts that you have manifested in the past. You have not spared yourself and it is indeed a pleasure and gratification to go into the consolidated schools scattered over your District.
You should have the proud satisfaction that you have rendered a service which cannot be estimated in dollars and cents.

Hoping that you will see your way clear to remain lined up on the side of public education in our County, and with cordial good wishes, I am,
Yours very truly,
F. B. WASTON, JR.,
Division Superintendent.

Mr. C. J. Blair,
STONY-MILLS, VA.

Dear Sir:

I appreciate the great work you have done for Tunstall District Schools since you have been on the Board and realizing the importance of your ability and experience on said Board. We your friends and Voters of said district earnestly request that you withdraw your name from the list of Candidates for Commissioner of said District and remain on the School Board. We regret the necessity of having to ask you to make this sacrifice. Respectfully submitted by your friends, in the interest of our School system.

DANVILLE, Va., July 28, 1923—

Mr. F. B. Waston, Jr., Division Supt. Mr. B. W. Dodson and other friends and supporters.

I have received your petition and after careful consideration I have decided to, and do, withdraw my name as a candidate for commissioner of Revenue for Tunstall District at the primary to be held Aug. 7th. I feel a great interest in the development and the work in the public schools of my district and county and my earnest all advantage of an education possible and if my friends think that I can serve this interest, I am willing to continue this work, and to factor and care for its progress and development, and will withdraw from the contest and devote myself to this school development. In fact, I desire to thank all my friends for their royal and earnest support given to me and shall always appreciate most heartily this friendship and support. I am,
Yours most sincerely

Ford 8 to 1 Shot For President; Harding 5-1 Favorite In Wall St.

BY EDWARD THIERRY

NEA Service Staff Writer.

(Copyright, 1923 by NEA Service.)
NEW YORK, July 30.—The first money for betting on next year's presidential election has appeared in Wall Street.

President Harding is considered a 5 to 1 shot. Odds on Henry Ford and William G. McAdoo are quoted at 8 to 1.

There is $50,000 ready to be bet at 1 to 15 that Ford will be the next president.

Another man, backing Governor Al Smith of New York has $2,000 that he is holding in the hope of getting odds of 20 to 1.

These figures, the first intimation of the trend of the betting world on the big political race of 1924, were given in an interview with NEA Service by Guy B. De Chadenes, a Wall street broker who is noted for handling some of the largest political bets made during the past 10 years.

"More money will be bet on the next presidential election," said De Chadenes, "than on any election in history. Probably none of the big bets will be placed until next summer. But brokers and speculators are already beginning to figure out probable odds."

Ten million dollars was bet on the Harding-Cox fight in 1920, according to estimates. Two million was bet on the Smith-Miller race for governor of New York last fall.

Opinions vary on probable odds.
State-makers, considering possibilities and near-possibilities, have made up a list of 20 Republicans and 20 Democrats who have been "mentioned" as presidential timber.

"Henry Ford is a big factor in any such future book," said De Chadenes. "Assuming he is a Democrat, one could probably get odds of 5 to 1 against his nomination."

"The best bet that would probably be taken against Ford for the presidency would be 8 to 1, the same as McAdoo. But I know of a broker who will now lay 1 to 15 that he will be elected. In other words, the man who wishes to bet on Ford is demanding 15 to 1 for his money, while those disposed to bet against him probably wouldn't want to give odds higher than 8 to 1."

"Next to Ford and McAdoo, among the Democrats Al Smith is given the best chance at 15 to 1. Former President Wilson, former Governor Cox and Senators Underwood of Alabama, Glass of Virginia, Ralston of Indiana and Edwards of New Jersey, and former Secretary of State Colby, Wilson's law partner, are all 20 to 1 shots."

"Two of Wilson's former cabinet members, Baker and Daniels, and Senator Robinson of Arkansas are easily 30 to 1. Bryan is a 40 to 1 shot. And anybody can get 50 to 1 against such candidates as former Ambassador Davis, former Supreme Court Justice Clarke, Senator Reed of Missouri, former Senator Pomeroy of Ohio, Major Hylan of New York and William Randolph Hearst.

"Hiram Johnson of California, at 70 to 1 is the next best bet to Harding among the Republicans with Secretaries Hoover and Hughes close behind at 12 to 1. Senator LaFollette, General Wood, Secretary Mellon, Senator Lodge, Governor Pinchot of Pennsylvania and Senator Watson of Indiana are all 20 to 1 shots."

"You can get 25 to 1 against young Theodore Roosevelt and former Governor Miller of New York, and 30 to 1 against Senator Borah, Senator Capper, former Governor Lowden of Illinois and former Governor Allen of Kansas. Will Hays, the old Republican chairman and now running moves is a long shot like former Senator Beveridge of Indiana at 40 to 1.
Judge Kenyon, the former senator from Iowa and Colonel Harvey, the ambassador to Great Britain, are 50 to 1 easily."

De Chadenes says politics is the favorite field of the big bet. Where millions are wagered on an election, he says less than $400,000 was bet on the last world's baseball series, and under $100,000 on the Dempsey-Gibbons fight.

"The biggest single bet I've seen go through," he said, "was in 1917 when one man bet $125,000 to $150,000 that Major Hylan would beat John Parroy last election. He was the biggest bet $50,000 on Governor Smith."

NEW YORK STOCK MARKET

(By The Associated Press)

NEW YORK, July 30.—Inability or unwillingness of traders to meet margin calls brought more selling in today's stock market with the result that opening prices were below Saturday's close. Selling was most effective in oils, grain carrying railroads, motors, and steels. Losses of a point or more were scored by St. Paul, pfd. and Sears Roebuck. U S Steel touched a new low for the year at 85 5-8.

BAR INDECENT EVIDENCE

(By Chicago Tribune Service.)

LONDON, July 28.—It is understood that the select committee which has been considering the publication of divorce reports in the newspapers recommends the prohibition of indecent matter in all proceedings before judicial bodies. It recommends that newspapers be permitted to publish only the statements of the petitioner, the defense, the judge's summing up, points of law and the names of witnesses but no evidence.

About 18,000,000 tons of coal are consumed in London annually 5,000,000 tons being used for domestic purposes.
